Periods of Insurance: Inception: 1st November 2024
 Expiry: 31st October 2025

It continues during the FIBA event and ends when the players have got to the location where their National Team have returned to together from the last FIBA event venue and where they are dispersing.

It will end when they arrive back at their usual place of residence having travelled directly back from the last FIBA event venue.

If the player decides to break their journey to the event, then it will begin when they start the last leg of the journey to the first FIBA event venue. If the player decides to break their return journey then Active International Duty ends when the first leg of the return journey finishes.

Total Disability is to commence within six (6) days of the date of such Accident. No Temporary Total Disablement benefit shall be payable during the official off- season period(s)* when the Insured Person would not have received a salary from a basketball club, league or federation under their employment contract.

Definitions:

“Accident” means when the insured person at an identified time and place during the active window suffers a bodily injury due to a sudden external and unexpected force acting on his body. An accident can also be a specific act of exertion and/or movement.

The term Accident also applies to: Heart attacks and Strokes, stress fractures, asphyxia caused by the unintentional inhalation of gasses or vapours; poisoning; intoxications and/or lesions caused by the unintentional ingestion of a substance; bites; stings and burns caused by animals or plants; infections resulting from accidents covered by the Policy benefits; drowning; injuries caused by strains; the physical consequences of surgery and of any other therapy that is required following an accident; the consequences of external temperature and of weather agents, including lightning; electrical shocks and the sudden contact with corrosives; accidents occurred during a sudden state of indisposition or unconsciousness; accidents resulting from incompetence, imprudence, negligence or even gross negligence of the Insured Person; accidents caused by tumults, vandalism, terrorism attacks other than Nuclear, Chemical and Biological Terrorism attacks, or other violent acts arising from political, social and labour motives, as long as the Insured Person has not played an active role therein.

“Bodily Injury” means a specific physical injury caused by an Accident. An injury is a Bodily Injury only if it is the direct consequence of an Accident and is not directly or indirectly caused by, contributed to by and/or aggravated by any pre-existing condition, as per definition provided on this document.

“Temporary Total Disability” means the player’s complete and total physical inability to participate in his/ her occupation as a result of an accident. With regards to the young players, senior and U23 3x3 players, the Temporary Total Disability will allow the National Member Federations to file a claim only in respect of the reimbursement of the surgical medical expenses, according to the limits of liability indicated above.

Should the Temporary Total Disability period drastically differ from the average recovery period generally acknowledged from the medical doctrine, then the appointed Legal Medical Examiner might request the injured person to provide additional and specific medical documents in order to accept the exceeding part of the Temporary Total Disability period.

“Sum Insured” means,

In respect of the professional Basketball players: the annual gross salary (intended as basic contract) which the player is entitled to earn during his/her period of Temporary Total Disability, for a maximum period of 365 days. Should the contract in place during the Temporary Total Disability period provide a modification of the player’s salary, provided the same had been signed by the player prior to the occurrence of an eligible injury, then the calculation of the daily indemnity will be adjusted accordingly

In respect of College players: the amount of the annual scholarship

In respect of the Free agents: the former annual NET salary, subject to the maximum limits indicated below:

Up to 29 YOA:	EUR 1,500,000
30 – 33 YOA:	EUR 1,000,000
34 Upwards:	EUR 250,000

Age: the player's age will be considered at the point of the registration on MAP, according to GMT+1 time-zone.

Any former annual net salary in respect of the Free Agents must be communicated to FIBA's insurance Office and specifically approved by the Insurers.

Should a Free Agent player have pre-contract signed by both sides (player and club) in place at the time of the active window, its amount can be registered on FIBA MAP.

“Daily Indemnity” For each Insured Person, the Daily Indemnity is calculated by dividing the value of his/her Employment Contract (basic salary) as stated in the Employment Contract signed with the Professional Basketball Team on behalf of which he/she carries out his/her professional sporting activity by the duration in days of the Insured Person's Employment contract.

The Daily Indemnity is payable from the day after the date of the bodily injury for a maximum of 365 days less any Excess Period.

No benefit shall be payable during the parts of the off-season period(s) that the Insured Person would not have received a salary from a Professional Basketball Team, League or National Basketball Federation under their Employment Contract or, for Free Agents, their last Employment Contract.

For the purpose of this definition: - the “Employment Contract” is the basic contract signed by the Insured Person with the Professional Basketball Club or League on behalf of which he/she carries out his/her professional sporting activity. The “basic contract” covered under this policy must be net of any variable rewards (e.g. - achievement bonuses), bonuses in general, benefits in kind (e.g., car, housing, image rights) none of which will not be counted for the calculation of the daily indemnity.

The Employment Contract must be communicated to the Insurers by the National Basketball Federation via FIBA MAP. For Insured Persons without an Employment Contract (Free agents) or with a Contract with the National Basketball Federation in force during the Period of Insurance the Daily Indemnity will be calculated based on their latest basketball salary earned, as per sum insured definition at page 5.

For Insured Persons participating to any University or other Academic Championship the Daily Indemnity is equivalent to 1/300th of the Employment scholarship. In respect of the TTD compensation, eligible claims shall be payable to college players in case of ascertained economic loss, meaning their scholarship being cancelled or suspended due to an injury occurred during any active window. The reimbursement of surgical medical expenses for eligible claims remains valid anyhow.

“Occupation” means a basketball player, including the young players, playing for any kind of financial reward during the “Regular Season”. This includes students who are amateur basketball players in receipt of a sports scholarship and professional players who at the time of Active International Duty are Free Agents that are able to sign an employment contract with a professional basketball club during the current “Regular Season”.

“Young Player” means a basketball player playing without any kind of financial reward during the “Regular Season”, representing his/ her National Team, starting from U16 category, upwards.

A “Pre-existing Condition” is defined as a physical impairment, defect, degenerative process or infirmity existing or diagnosed within the last 18 months prior to each Active International Duty and only if it has been diagnosed by a Health Care Practitioner prior to the current period of Active International Duty or in the event that it has not been so diagnosed then, in the reasonable opinion of a Health Care Practitioner the Insured Person could reasonably have been expected to be aware of its existence prior to the current period of Active International Duty, that has led to 5 or more consecutive games or 21 days (whichever spans the greater period of time) being missed during the period prior to the period of Active International Duty.

“Permanent Total Disablement” means disablement certified by the Qualified Medical Practitioner that entirely and permanently prevents the Insured from fulfilling their usual Occupation lasting twelve (12) calendar months and at the end of that period being beyond hope of improvement.

“Recurrent Disability” If the Insured Person suffers a recurrence of Temporary Total Disability which has previously satisfied the Excess Period stated in the Schedule and qualified for benefit under this Policy within the period as stated in the Schedule as a result of the same Accidental Bodily Injury, such recurrence, if suffered and detected within maximum 45 days from the date of the presumed recovery, will be deemed part of the prior disability and will not be subject to a new Excess Period.
